Nameless opposition springs up against £800,000 vision

ROW OVER BID

• Local politicians and business owners attended the launch of the Abingdon BID business plan

BUSINESS leaders are celebrating the launch of a £800,000 vision for Abingdon in the same week an anonymous opposition group claiming to be town traders warned it will 'ruin' Abingdon.

Ballot papers are being sent to businesses to vote on whether Abingdon should become a 'Business Improvement District' (BID) between October 2 and October 29.

By Alex Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The BID would be the first in Oxfordshire representing Abingdon's 300-plus businesses, and could see free Wi-Fi and 24-hour parking set up in the town.

If voted through businesses would pay annually into the scheme, raising almost £800,000 over five years to invest in the town centre.

Paul Holt, branch manager of Newbury Building society and vice chair of the BID steering group, said: "I'm so passionate about a BID for Abingdon town centre and the difference it could deliver.

"When you consider that for most businesses it will cost less than the price of a chocolate bar a day, yet will deliver over £800,000 of improvements in the town, I think it's a fantastic investment."

Abingdon MP Nicola Blackwood attended the BID launch at The Crown and Thistle in Bridge Street.

Murder accused claims he tried to save his son

• The trial is ongoing at Oxford Crown Court

A COWLEY dad accused of murdering his 11-week-old baby claimed he accidentally injured his son trying to save his life while he was choking on food, a Oxford Crown Court jury heard.

Jordan Saxton, of Untons Place, Faringdon, denies murdering his son Jayden Saxton in November last year at the home he shared with Jayden's mum Tracy Ray.

Ms Ray left the forklift truck driver, originally from Cowley, home alone with Jayden for 90 minutes before he called 999 on November 16.

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Paramedics rushed Jayden to Swindon's Great Western Hospital before he was moved to the Bristol Royal Hospital for Children, where his life support was switched off two days later.

Consultant paediatrician of Swindon's Great Western Hospital, Nicholas Daskas, told the court on Tuesday Saxton was very 'distressed' when he entered the hospital.

He said: "I got a brief account of the baby's medical history and he told me Jayden had stopped breathing shortly after he had been fed, just a few moments before."

After taking an x-ray scan of Jayden's chest, Dr Daskas said the toddler's right clavicle was completely fractured.

He added: "There was a fracture there but there wasn't an explanation on how it could have happened and we were wondering why the baby was not recovering."

Dr Daskas said the resuscitation team ordered an urgent CT scan and found parts of the brain were swollen.

Prosecutor Paul Dunkels asked Dr Daskas: "Did anything Mr Saxton tell you explain the injuries that had been found on Jayden?"

To which the doctor replied: "No."

The prosecutor continued: "Was there any evidence to show that he might have choked on something?"

Dr Daskas replied: "No. When we put a tube down the child's windpipe, we found no evidence of blood or any fluid there."

Defence barrister Gareth James asked Dr Daskas: "What did Mr Saxton say when he was describing what had happened to you?"

Dr Daskas replied: "He told me Jayden had been lying on his chest and that he started to dose off, then the coughing started and it sounded like something was stuck, and then the baby stopped breathing."

A statement from Victoria Webb, a theatre nurse at Swindon's Great Western Hospital read: "Mr Saxton kept saying that he had been feeding him and I thought that it was quite strange and that he might not have fed him."

A post mortem found nine of Jayden's ribs had previously been severely fractured between October 21 and November 4 last year.

The trial continues.

Five arrested on Oxon hunting offences

FIVE people were arrested on Monday in connection to two separate hunting offences in Fyfield and Blewbury.

Two men were arrested in Streatley after police received reports from a member of the public that dogs were chasing hares in a field in Blewbury near Didcot at around 3.40pm on Monday.

The men, aged 30 and 31, both from Surrey, were arrested on suspicion of illegal hare coursing and have been bailed until October 19 and 22 respectively.

An 18-year-old man and two teenage boys, aged 16 and 17, were then arrested in Pusey near Faringdon at around 5.15pm.

Police were called when members of the public reported trespassers on private land where a vehicle and lurcher style dogs were seen in Fyfield.

A vehicle, mobile phones, and two dogs were seized and the three men, all from Carmarthenshire in Wales, have been bailed until October 29.

Hare coursing is the use of dogs to hunt hares, banned under the Hunting Act 2004.

Acting Superintendent Jim O'Ryan LPA commander for South and Vale said: "Autumn and winter months typically see an increase in Hunting Act offences such as hare coursing, night poaching and criminal trespassing."

Man dead in car

DIDCOT: A 28-year-old Didcot man was found dead in his car by a dog walker on Foxglove Lane in West Hagbourne on Sunday morning.

At around 10.04am, the walker found chemistry student Razaa-Ul-Mustafa Hameed.

Coroner Darren Salter opened and postphoned an inquest into his death at Oxfordshire Coroner's Court in Oxford's New Road, on Tuesday.

He suggested a cause of death as asphyxia pending further investigation set to be carried out.

A full inquest was earmarked for February 24.

Moped theft

WITNEY: A moped was stolen from Fernleigh Residential Home in Buttercross Lane on Monday September 14.

On Wednesday police released CCTV images of a man they want to speak to.

At around 6am a man walked into the residential home and stole a yellow Honda moped from the buggy park.

The offender was seen to ride off on the moped along Station Lane towards the traffic lights next to the Tesco fuel station.

PM declines to comment on piggate allegations

PRIME Minister and Witney MP David Cameron declined to comment on allegations which surfaced on Sunday that he took part in an initiation procedure involving a dead pig while at Oxford University.

An unauthorised biography of David Cameron written by Conservative donor Lord Ashcroft accuses the Prime Minister of putting a "private part" of his body into a dead pig's mouth to gain entry to the exclusive Piers Gaveston dining society.

The allegations were featured on the front page of The Daily Mail when it published part of Lord Ashcroft's book Call Me Dave on Monday, which was written alongside journalist Isabel Oakeshott.

The Oxfordshire Guardian contacted Downing Street which declined to comment.

The accusation allegedly comes from an anonymous serving MP who said he had seen photographic evidence.

Lord Ashcroft previously admitted having a grudge against Cameron after his was skipped for a high-up government job when the Conservatives came to power in 2010.

Inspector scrutinises Vale homes blueprint

CAMPAIGNERS say they fear for Oxfordshire's countryside as Vale of White Horse's draft local plan for 20,000 new homes is being examined by a government Inspector.

Parish councils and local action groups including the Oxfordshire branch of the Campaign to Protect Rural England Oxfordshire met last Monday to discuss their concerns.

The draft plan examination began on Tuesday at The Beacon in Portway, Wantage, and is set to continue until next Thursday.

By Alex Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Chairman of CPRE's Vale of White Horse District region, Peter Collins, said: "Between us, we will be giving the Inspector a very clear and consistent message about our concerns on housing numbers, economic projections and infrastructure."

Planning Inspector Malcolm Rivett has been appointed by government to evaluate the soundness of the plan based on the National Planning Policy Framework – a document, which sets out national housing guidelines.

Vale's draft plan was completed and submitted to government in March this year and if it is approved by the Inspector the plan will be formally adopted.

It would then become a legally binding blueprint for developers, councillors and council officers to follow when deciding where and how many houses will be built in the Vale up until 2031.

Oxfordshire county councillor Neil Fawcett said: "We're making a strong case that the overall numbers of housing are unrealistically high and based on over-optimistic employments figures.

"We'll get a significant amount of housing in Green Belt in Abingdon without any guarantee we'll get infrastructure."

Included in the plan's proposals is the development of 2,560 at Valley Park near Didcot, 1,500 on Crab Hill in Wantage, and 1,000 homes in north Abingdon on land north of Dunmore Road and Twelve Acre Drive.

It also makes provision for 23,000 new jobs across the vale.

The first day of examination focused on housing issues in the area, particularly the need by law to cooperate with Oxford City Council on its unmet housing need.

Oxford city is likely to fall short of its housing targets however an exact figure has not been released.

The plan aims to allocate land for at least 20,000 homes across the Vale district, however this figure does not take into account Oxford's unmet housing need.

This is still being discussed as Oxford has not announced what its shortfall will be.

• The Vale's local plan will earmark where new homes will go until 2031

Vote over BID plan launches next week

• From front page

They set out plans last Thursday to introduce free Wi-Fi in Abingdon, 24-hour parking and electronic signs for spaces at The Charter multi-storey car park with the money.

There are more than 20 businesses involved in the scheme including Waitrose, The Crown and Thistle and Throwing Buns bakery.

Ms Blackwood said: "It was great to see so many Abingdon businesses of all shapes and sizes turn out to debate the Abingdon BID proposals.

"This is just the beginning of the debate about what's best for Abingdon and it will be for business owners to decide whether or not to go ahead."

A newly-formed group known as VOTE NO launched in opposition to the BID.

Their anonymous comment stated: "We are a group of Abingdon's businesses who care about our town and will not see it ruined by a group of people with egos bigger than the County Hall.

"To quote a famous line 'all businesses are created equal, but some are more equal than others.'"

The group is encouraging those opposed to the BID to join their campaign, anonymously if they prefer.

It did not respond to the Guardian's questions.

Owner of Stert Street's Dream Doors and chairman of the BID steering group, Mike Hurley, said: "They are totally anonymous and I think that's wrong. It's terrorism in words. Maybe it's people with legitimate concerns or maybe it's just one person."

He added: "A BID would create a stronger voice for businesses in Abingdon representing 300 plus local businesses which will have enormous influence and lobbying powers as proven elsewhere."

There are 210 BIDs across the UK but none in Oxfordshire.

South Oxon gets new online community bank

A NEW online community bank for South Oxfordshire was launched at a ceremony at Didcot Civic Hall yesterday.

The bank, titled Didcot Community Bank, is a branch of the Milton Keynes-band Swan Credit Union, and will be a local, not-for-profit financial co-operative.

Services are to be provided entirely online with two information points at Didcot, one in the Citizens Advice Bureau in High Street and the other at Soha Housing in Station Road.

Charlie Robertson, Didcot Town Council leader, who will act as a board member of the branch, said: "I think the bank is going to be fantastic for Didcot and will act as support for the local community and prevent them being exploited by loan sharks or payday loan companies."

• Didcot Town Council leader Charlie Robertson

The branch received a £2,000 grant from Didcot Town Council and currently has a 1,300-person membership from branches in Milton Keynes, Aylesbury and Thame.

The bank will be run by volunteers with the maximum amount for savings and loans, set at £10,000.

Anybody who lives in or has family or business interest in South Oxfordshire can join the bank.

Mayor of Didcot Des Healy, unveiled the bank, and said: "It's a pleasure to be here, I know there has been a huge amount of work that has gone into making this happen.

"I'm absolutely delighted to launch this bank and I know that it will be here for decades to come."

PM opposes cuts to children's centres

PRIME Minister and Witney MP David Cameron yesterday opposed Oxfordshire County Council's plans to close the county's children's centres as part of cost cutting measures.

Mr Cameron encouraged the council to protect frontline services from cuts and called them 'vital'.

Mr Cameron said: "I know how vital these services are for many local people and I firmly believe they should remain open.

"All councils need to do their bit to make savings and pay off Labour's deficit but I am encouraging the county council to follow the best practice of Conservative councils from across the country in protecting frontline services."

OCC's cabinet voted last week to launch a public consultation on the closures.

It is due to begin in early October.

The council set out three options for the future of the services, each of which would see the 44 children's centres replaced by up to eight 'family and resource centres'.

By Alex Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

County councillor John Tanner said: "The hypocrisy of David Cameron on children's centres is mind blowing.

"With one hand he slashes the funding for Oxfordshire County Council and with the other he claims he supports the children's centres.

"Bringing up children is a tough job for everyone. If the centres close we will miss women who have difficulty breastfeeding, or who suffer from post-natal depression or face violence from their partners."

OCC leader Ian Hudspeth argued revised plans would effectively provide the same services.

The closure of the children's centres save OCC's £8 million as it attempts to save £280m by 2018.

Councillor Hudspeth said: "In his statement [Mr Cameron] said its important we maintain the services. That's the proposal – to maintain the services for the most vulnerable. That's something the consultation will take into account.

"We do have to work within the financial constraints we find ourselves in."

• OCC leader Ian Hudspeth

Uni given £200m in EU bank's biggest ever loan

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A £200 MILLION loan from a bank owned by the European Union has been handed to Oxford University.

The university announced it had secured the 30-year loan from the The European Investment Bank (EIB) last Thursday.

It is the largest university loan offered by the bank and is set to fund improvements to its Old Road Campus in Headington, refurbishments, new labs and new buildings at the Radcliffe Observatory Quarter in Jericho.

It will also fund new facilities at the university's science buildings in South Parks Road including the the Department of Physics' Beecroft building, which is being built.

Oxford City Council leader Bob Price said: "This loan represents the confidence the bank has in the research the university is carrying out as the loan is linked to seeing out the development of new discoveries and possibilities that can be made possible from the research. It's a massive showing of confidence that demonstrates the university's standing as one of the best in world."

The university has already got the full sum and is set to carry out the rest of the improvements over the next decade.

University vice-chancellor Andrew Hamilton said: "Their support now gives us greater freedom to progress our vision of a continually-evolving campus."

The Old Road campus will benefit from funds for the on-going development at the Big Data and Target Discovery Institutes at the Lia Ka Shing Centre and refurbishing the Tinbergen Building to provide new chemistry teaching labs.

The Weston Library in Broad Street, which opened after an £80m revamp in March, also benefited, and the loan will also part fund a new building for the Department of Primary Health Care Services.

EIB vice president Jonathan Taylor said: "The new loan will strengthen research and learning across a brand of disciplines here in Oxford and ensure the university continues to be at the forefront of global research."

Suits, boots and bikes for cancer

BIKERS from across Oxfordshire will play their part this Sunday with 30,000 riders worldwide to raise awareness of prostate cancer.

The Distinguished Gentleman's Ride encourages motorcyclists to don their best three-piece suits to raise money for prostate cancer charities.

More than 100 Oxfordshire riders will travel from Pear Tree services through Oxford city centre and out to Marston leaving at 11am.

Rick Cawley from event sponsors Triumph Motorcycles said: "The Distinguished Gentleman's Ride is a fantastic event that brings together like-minded people in a fun environment.

"It's great to see a global event showcasing the pleasurable aspects of biking and the camaraderie that comes with owning a motorcycle."

The event was founded in Australia in 2012 and is set to take place in about 400 cities this year.

Mr Cawley added: "Oxford's ride will be an excellent day – bringing together loads of riders from across the region for what's sure to be a memorable occasion. If last year's outfits are anything to go by, it will certainly be a spectacle for anyone who happens to pass. "

Organisers are hoping to raise £1.9 million worldwide for prostate cancer charities including Prostate Cancer UK.

There are 132 riders registered for the Oxford ride with £8,751 raised so far.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Miller feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and James is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Fire service hits targets for first time

OXFORDSHIRE Fire and Rescue Service has hit its response time targets for the first time this year, it was announced on Tuesday.

The service responded to 85.02 per cent of emergencies in 11 minutes or less, and 95.29 per cent in 14 minutes or less.

The service sets itself the target of arriving at an emergency within 11 minutes 80 per cent of the time, and within 14 minutes 95 per cent of the time.

Oxfordshire County Council operates the service, and its deputy leader Rodney Rose said: "Congratulations to everybody in the fire and rescue service for meeting these targets.

"The fact that in previous years the fire and rescue did not meet the targets they have drawn up for themselves proves conclusively that they were tough and stretching targets that are no easy win."

On average the service arrived in seven minutes and 29 seconds to the 5,905 incidents it was called to during 2014 ro 2015.

According to the council, 98 per cent of people were satisfied with firefighters' work in emergencies, including keeping damage to a minimum.

Child refugees in county double

By Alex Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

OXFORDSHIRE County Council is urging residents to consider fosterering child refugees as they reveal the number has doubled in the past year.

There are 51 unaccompanied asylum seeker children in Oxfordshire under the council's care - around double from this time last year.

It comes as rumours that Syrian refugees could be flown to RAF Brize Norton near Carterton were denied by the airbase on Tuesday.

County council spokesman Owen Morton said: "The total is around twice the figure of a year ago – though there is nothing to suggest Oxfordshire is in any way noteworthy in terms of rising numbers, which have been seen in recent months across many parts of the country.

"The council seeks to find suitable placements for all unaccompanied asylum seeker children in line with its statutory duty to provide care for this group of children."

Of the 51, 17 are from Eritrea, in Africa, 16 are from Albania, 12 are from Afghanistan, three are from Egypt, one is from Iraq, one from, Ethiopia, and one is from Vietnam. None are currently from Syria.

Asylum Welcome charity, based in Newtec Place in Magdalen Road, works with between 80 and 100 unaccompanied children, or those who were children when they arrived.

Director Kate Smart said: "The main thing that we believe needs to be done to improve their situation is for the Home Office to give their asylum claims a more sympathetic hearing.

"We see many young people who, once they are 18 or 19, are told they must return to their own country and all support for them in the UK, including accommodation, is removed.

"Often they have no family remaining in their country and only a hazy memory of life there, and they have no means of supporting themselves. This includes young people from Afghanistan and Iraq."

Asylum Welcome also runs a youth club for refugee children once a week and provides help to youngsters arriving in the country alone.

• Workers at refugee charity Asylum Welcome weekly youth club in St Clement's, Oxford

Mr Morton added: "As with most children in the council's care, that means finding local foster homes from the council's pool of registered foster carers, or where this is not possible, seeking placements with external fostering agencies.

Prime Minister David Cameron announced earlier this month Britain would welcome 20,000 refugees from camps in Syria by 2020.

Ig Nobel Prize

OXFORD: An Oxford University researcher won an International Ig Nobel Prize last week for her research at Harvard University.

Helen Ashdown (below) of the University's Nuffield Department of primary care health sciences conducted a study into the relationship between patients experiencing pain whilst travelling over speed bumps and those who need their appendix removed.

The prizes honour achievements that make people laugh and were in their 24th year.

OXFORD: Oxford City Council are offering a £400 prize to community groups and charities in a new competition.

World's best star at Blenheim

• Winner Clark Montgomery riding Loughan Glen in the show jumping

THE world's best horses and riders put on a spectacle for crowds of over 60,000 at the 25th Blenheim Palace International Horse Trials, ending with a show jumping finale on Sunday.

The USA's Clark Montgomery took home the trophy after jumping a clear round at the Marlborough Arena in front of the backdrop of Blenheim Palace in Woodstock.

He beat 100 other competitors on Loughan Glen with an impressively low overall score of 33.8, becoming the third American rider to win in Blenheim's 25-year history.

"It is a real honour to have won

By Katriona Ormiston
katriona@taylornewspapers.co.uk

it," he said.

"His technique isn't the most normal but he always tries really hard, and he definitely surprised me."

The four-day event launched on Thursday with dressage over the first two days and a 29-jump cross country race on Saturday through the palace grounds.

Britain's highest placed rider in the main CC13* event was 31-year-old Wiltshire-based Kitty King who came third on Ceylor Lan, behind Montgomery and New Zealand rider Christopher Burton in second.

"He was a little bit tired but he was so careful in there and he gave himself plenty of time and didn't bother with the crowds – he was very relaxed and confident," King said.

Her clear show jumping round also saw her jump up two spots on the table from fifth to podium position.

It was after New Zealander Tim Price and British eventing hero William Fox-Pitt brought fences down amid the high pressure of a packed crowd, in the final minutes of the competition.

King added: "I know that, as long as I ride the rhythm and do my job they are wanting to leave the fences up."

Oxfordshire's eventing star Izzy Taylor placed 64th despite riding smoothly in the dressage and show jumping.

The 32-year-old from Aynho near Bicester picked up 20 penalty points on It's Chico for a refusal at a fence during the cross country.

Oxfordshire's Aoife Clark, who lives in Middle Barton, came sixth in the slightly easier CIC3* for eight and nine-year-old horses aboard Wasting Light, and came 19th in the main CCI3* with Fernhill Adventure.

While Oxfordshire rider, Michael Jackson from Bledington, finished seventh in the CIC3* on Treloar.

Crowds were also treated to a parade of hounds from the county's Heythrop Hunt, a horse high-jumping competition, dog agility, cookery demonstrations, and a mini village of shops and eateries.

The popular high jump contest was won by eventers Gemma Tattersall on Tropique and Helen West on Ebay who both jumped 6ft 1in.

Tattersall said: "It's the biggest I've ever jumped – he was incredible."

Does PYT have the X Factor?

Video online at oxfordshireguardian.co.uk

• Renetta Eagle, Amy Nash and Ebony Cantwell at King Alfred's Academy in Wantage

• PYT got four yes' from the judges in their first live audition

• The five-piece girl band only came together four months ago

By Alex Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

OXFORD'S girl band PYT will find out their X Factor fate this Sunday.

The five-piece group watched the first wave of talent show contestants make it through to the judges' houses stage of the competition last night.

They are still waiting to discover if they have made the cut themselves.

Three of PYT are from Oxfordshire and two are from London.

On Friday the Oxfordshire Guardian caught up with the local contingent of the band at King Alfred's Academy in Wantage to find out about boot camp and their new-found fame.

Ebony Cantwell, 17, from Wantage, Amy Nash, 18, from Jericho, and Renetta Eagle, 20, from Headington, are in the mix to fight for the title of X Factor winner.

Amy, a student at City of Oxford College, said: "The first time we met was four months ago and we just gelled really quickly and we're all just a weird bunch of girls."

PYT – which stands for Pretty Young Thing – were put together by their managers in a bid to become a strong entry for the ITV talent show title.

Renetta said: "I think we can go all the way. The talent this year is just amazing.

"The group category is probably the strongest it's ever been but at the same time it pushes us to work even harder."

She added: "Our first audition for X Factor was a week after we actually came together. It was one of our band member's first ever performances. It was her first time holding a mic."

And PYT have already had to deal with some strange social media messages – including a Twitter follower asking who has the best feet.

But King Alfred's Academy student Ebony explained being in a group feels far better than going it solo.

She said: "It's pressure because you want to do well for yourself, the judges and everyone.

"It's a lot easier than it would be if we were doing it on our own.

"At the audition all our families were there and they were really supportive."

Amy added: "My mum still doesn't think its real.

"I used to think I was Annie from the musical and I used to sing her songs."

PYT will find out on The X Factor's ITV show at 7pm if they have made it through.

Cancer sufferer starts blog for fellow victims

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

AN Abingdon woman is urging fellow cancer sufferers to share their stories after launching an online blog this month to help support others dealing with the disease.

Joanna Young, 28, from Radley, was diagnosed with a rare variation of ovarian cancer called an immature ovarian teratoma in June 2013 .

After two operations and three doses of chemotherapy, the Blenheim Palace events planner set up a blog; 'When it rains looks for rainbows'.

She said: "It was something I wanted to do show others what I've been through and to show people that there are others like you going through the same stuff.

"It was something that I've struggled to come to terms with, but after time you just come to see as it like 'the new normal'.

"It helps me to write about it as I feel like I'm almost talking about someone else's problems and that it's not really been happening to me."

Miss Young went to see her doctor in April 2013 complaining of backaches and underwent an operation in June, before going into remission for a year.

Her care moved to Charing Cross Hospital in London and in June 2014, she experienced similar backaches and found the cancer had returned and spread to her lymph nodes at the back of her abdomen.

She then had keyhole surgery, and chemo, the most recent of which was a high dose in January this year, leaving her bed ridden between January to May.

Miss Young is again in remission and lives at home with parents Penny and Alan Young, and her brother Paul visits while she is at Charing Cross for constant check-ups.

She is considering returning to work following her treatment but is taking her time to get back in to shape, and walked a 10K in Henley to raise money for The Cancer Treatment and Research Trust this month.

Joanna added: "I feel that I have been very lucky, I'm very close with my family and have had a lot of support from them and my friends which has really helped."

Her blog can be found at wheni-trainslookforrainbowsblog.wordpress.com

Seacourt Park and Ride could double

PLANS to almost double spaces at Seacourt Park and Ride in Oxford's Botley Road were unveiled last week.

Public exhibitions showed designs for 700 extra spaces bringing the car park's capacity total to 1,494 at Oxford Town Hall on Thursday and Friday and West Oxford Community Centre on Saturday.

Oxford City Council spokesman Dominic Llewellyn-Jones said Seacourt is the best option to relieve Botley Road congestion despite the fact that it floods in heavy rain.

It had to be shut in December 2012, and January and February 2014.

He said: "We have taken the risk of flooding very seriously and have considered alternative sites for the development but there are no suitable alternative sites in a lower flood risk zone that can meet the needs of travelling by car from West Oxford."

A new waiting area building and increased cycle parking are also part of the proposals.

The park and ride has been running for over 30 years with buses running every 10 minutes from the site to Oxford. A public consultation on the plans is open until October 1.

A planning application for the site could be submitted this October with a planning decision expected early 2016 and work could start next Spring to have the site fully open for use in summer 2017.

Burglar jailed

OXFORD: A man has been sentenced to four years and six months in prison for a spate of burglaries.

Alan Goodman, 32, of no fixed abode, pleaded guilty to five burglaries in Oxford at Oxford Crown Court and was sentenced on Tuesday September 15.

A further 13 offences including bicycle thefts and burglaries in Oxford, Banbury and Didcot were taken into consideration.

• Alan Goodman

The burglaries took place over July and August this year.

Goodman was arrested on August 7.

House fire

OXFORD: Firefighters were called to a rapidly spreading house fire in Marston last Wednesday, September 16.

Crews were called to Croft Road at about 2.22pm where they were faced with smoke billowing from a first floor bedroom.

The fire was put out before it spread from the bedroom but smoke had travelled into adjoining properties.

High-powered fans were then used to ventilate the properties.

No one was in the property.

Tenth Barton Bash hosts first football tournament

THE Barton Bash will mark its tenth birthday with its first ever charity five-a-side football tournament this Saturday.

Proceeds from the tournament will go to the British Heart Foundation in memory of former Barton newsagent of over 30 years Barry Holden.

The Barton Bash is an annual community fun day held at the Barton Neighbourhood Centre organised by the Barton Community Association.

Barry's wife Sue Holden, 67, at the helm of the Barton Bash said: "It's the main community event in Barton.

• Face painting proved popular with children at last year's Baston Bash

"It encourages people of all backgrounds, all religions, all ages, to come out and socialise."

The bash will run between Midday and 4pm with activities including sumo suit wrestling, belly dancing, face painting, and the main event, a five-a-side tournament.

Barry Holden, an avid Oxford United supporter, died last August aged 71 after suffering from heart problems for 25 years.

Mrs Holden said: "He lived life to the full.

"It was thanks to the work of the British Heart Foundation that he lived as long as he did.

"There were occasions when he shouldn't have made it but he did thanks to them."

Mrs Barton, who lives in Sandhills was awarded an MBE for her community work in the Queen's Birthday Honours in 2008 and has organised the event for the last eight years.

Registration for the football tournament starts at Midday and entry costs £1 per player, with all money raised being double by Santander bank.

Games will kick off at 1pm and last eight minutes each.

The tournament will take on a league structure – three points for a win and one for a draw.

The Barton Bash is supported by Oxford City Council, Sainsbury's in Heyford Hill and Kidlington, Oxford United and the Oxford Bus Company.

City councillor Mike Rowley said: "This is a great opportunity to raise money for a worthwhile cause, keep fit and have fun."

£1.5k boost to charities and support groups

COMMUNITY groups in Barton and Blackbird Leys have got more than £1,500 in grants from a round of funding from Oxford City Council announced last Wednesday.

The Young Women's Music Project, based in Blackbird Leys and Barton, has been running for 15 years holds workshops for girls and women aged 14 to 25. It received a grant of £700.

Chairman Olivia Havercroft said: "Barton and Blackbird Leys are in the most deprived five per cent of places in the UK in terms of young people's educations. We use music to educate young women and provide a creative outlet to work through problems. We are really excited about this grant."

Barton-based support group Oxfordshire Advocacy got £497 to train people to communicate with those suffering dementia. Fundraising officer, Susan Bowers, said: "This money will help us empower our volunteers to understand the communication problems that arise with dementia."

A donation of £371 was also given to the Oxford Polish Association to contribute towards the group's job seeking and IT sessions.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

A scarecrow's story

HAVE you ever been to a scarecrows' wedding?

By James Richings

Invitations are out as The Beacon in Wantage gets set to stage 'The Scarecrows' Wedding' next Friday, October 2.

The children's book, by 'The Gruffalo' author Julia Donaldson, will be performed by Scamp Theatre Company.

Actress Muireann Bird told the Guardian: "I think there's a real sense of joy with children that isn't always guaranteed in other forms of theatre.

"Children come with an openness and willingness to believe, which is really wonderful, and live theatre is absolutely unlike anything else.

"It's a shared experience that is different every time and it's just magic!

"I also think our show in particular allows the audience to really use their imagination, and I think that can only have a positive effect in the children's life as a whole."

The production comes to Oxfordshire after a successful run of shows at this year's Edinburgh Festival.

Written and published by Julia Donaldson last year, the story focuses on the relationship between two scarecrows: Betty O'Barley (Muireann Bird) and Harry O'Hay (Edward Day), who decide to get married.

However, when the farmer (Paul Brendan) replaces Harry with another scarecrow in Reginald Rake (also Paul Brendan), can Reginald persuade Betty that he is the scarecrow for her?

Or will Harry return back in time to save his own wedding?

"It's definitely a show for the whole family," Muireann said.

"I've had plenty of friends without children come to see the show and really enjoy it.

"I think the music is really lovely so that's certainly something for adults to enjoy. It's a very simple, truthful love story which is a universal theme."

She added: "It's always a joy to work from strong source material.

"There is also a responsibility to create work which is true to the original story.

"Julia Donaldson is such a brilliant author, we were very conscious of doing her story justice.

"She has seen the show and loved it, so thankfully that appears to be the case."

Tickets cost £8 per person, or £30 for a family of four. The show starts at 8pm.

Jesus Christ Superstar

HE has spent nearly two decades playing the Son of God, but the lead in 'Jesus Christ Superstar' said he finds it easy enough to switch off from the role.

And Glenn Carter will take up centre stage again when the musical comes to the New Theatre in Oxford on Monday.

The actor has played the role since 1997 in different performances and a film of 'Jesus Christ Superstar'.

It follows Jesus' last week on earth before he was crucified, loosely based on Gospels' accounts in the New Testament of the Bible.

By James Richings

"I have always been very fortunate to be an emotionally balanced person so I don't fly off the handle. I don't get lost in character," the 51-year-old said.

"So for me, I love doing it because I love feeling the challenge of it whilst I'm doing it and experiencing it while I'm doing it, but I don't think about it two seconds after I've come off the stage, I can switch off."

He added: "When I'm on tour, I love meeting people, all sorts of people. I will go and sit in a coffee shop or café and chat to people, get a cab, chat to the driver, chat to a bus driver, that's what I enjoy."

Andrew Lloyd Webber and Tim Rice's award winning version will run in Oxford from Monday, September 28, until Saturday, October 3.

After its stage debut in 1970, 'Jesus Christ Superstar' became the longest-running West End musical that decade.

It has now won two Tony Awards and is the 22nd longest-running West End and Broadway show.

But Glenn said he can't let playing the role become second nature.

"I've got director's notes of three or four different productions in my head, so I need to be very clear which one I'm doing, and what one director wants to investigate, another director absolutely does not," he explained.

"So for example, one director will say it's all about the sub-text, the relationships between the characters, what their experiences are together, their emotional feelings about each other and so on, but another director will say, no sub-text at all, we're just telling the story that's in front of you."

Portrait of satire and stereotyping

• Rachael Ofori

A FRESH-FACED play will be making its Oxford Playhouse debut when it visits the theatre next Wednesday, September 30, and Thursday, October 1.

By James Richings

'Portrait' is a one-woman show created and performed by actress and writer Rachael Ofori, which focuses on a witty and fearless 18-year-old woman called Candice.

Based on Rachael's own experiences with stereotypes, the play takes a satirical look at the troubles of modern life through the eyes of a young black woman.

"Candice's monologues are punctuated by these other female characters that embody whatever it is she is talking about during the sessions with her college counsellor," Rachael told the Guardian.

"These other women are bold and humorous but they also have very challenging opinions that provoke interesting conversation among audiences.

"And I was inspired to create this by the stereotypes I was faced with when I was growing up, and I took these ideas and either slightly inverted them to challenge these perceptions or exploited them for comic effect."

Currently on an autumn and winter tour around the UK, 'Portrait' officially made its stage debut back on February 17 at the Camden People's Theatre in London.

Fast forward six months and Rachael's play, performed by the Fuel Theatre Company, was one of the most talked about shows at this year's Edinburgh Fringe Festival.

It meant she caught the attention of writers and actors, who described her as a 'rising talent'.

"The best thing about performing to an audience that appreciates you is when you can feel that everyone is going on this journey with you," she said.

"Especially when doing a solo show as I never leave the stage once I start, unlike in other instances where I'm playing a character in a play and they're not on the whole time.

"You have time to gather yourself - prep yourself for the next scene, but with this, it's a rollercoaster once you say your first line.

"So the best thing is the feeling that everyone in the audience is coming with me."

The show is suitable for anyone over the age of 12.

Both shows start at 7.30pm.

Tickets will cost £10 and £8 for concessions.

Seat unleashes new Leon Cupra upgrades to power and steering

SEAT are known for producing mean looking, popular cars on our roads for years.

The new Seat Leon Cupra is now available and is likely to be a well-liked addition to the Seat catalogue.

It now comes with a front-axle lock to improve traction and handling of the front-wheel-drive car.

The maximum locking force is 1,600 Newton metres and, in extreme cases, 100 per cent of the drive can be sent to one wheel.

Its sensitive control has no negative impact on steering and the driver experiences a relaxed steering feel which requires less effort and less hand movement around the wheel.

One of the biggest new features of the Leon Cupra is the speed and power upgrades.

It can do 62mph in just 5.7 seconds or 5.8 seconds with the manual gearbox and has a top speed of 155mph.

By James Richings

The performance of the Leon Cupra can be raised even further with the optional Sub8 Performance Pack, which includes a set of Brembo brake callipers, an exclusive wheel design and special tyres.

The interior of the car has also been modified for the driver's needs with chrome trim elements, with a high-gloss black available as an option.

The increased power output is easy to hear as the modified exhaust system gives the sports engine an even more refined tone.

The Leon Cupra also states its position as one of the top models in the Seat range with its progressive steering, dynamic chassis control, front-axle differential lock, high-performance brake system and 19-inch wheels.

The new Seat model comes with the full-LED headlamps and the LED rear lights as standard.

DID SOMEONE SAY REVERSING CAMERA?

CITROËN

CITROËN C1

Some cars have that little extra something. In the case of Citroën C1, it's a reversing camera.[1] Brilliant for getting in and out of tight spots in town. Add to this, superb agility and super-efficient engines that give you up to 74.3 mpg;[Δ] a 7" touchscreen[2] control centre and unique bi-tone colour palette, it's no wonder the Citroën C1 is as irresistible as it is.

U's tackle title rivals in 1-1 epic

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A BATTLING Oxford United couldn't find a late winner in their 1-1 draw with Portsmouth after Adam McGurk shot home an unbeatable thunderbolt that cancelled out Liam Sercombe's first-half opener.

Michael Appleton's men took a while to get started but Sercombe's effort sparked the game into life in a period that could have seen Oxford charge into an unassailable lead.

However, Pompey hit back in the second-half and McGurk's strike came like a bolt from the blue as Oxford were truly challenged by Paul Cook's side.

Oxford sought to find a winner, but the game finished in a draw despite a late red card for Pompey's Michael Doyle.

In a heated first 20 minutes, opportunities were limited with Oxford's Kemar Roofe and Callum O'Dowda unable to find the pockets to exploit the Pompey defence.

Danny Hylton was sent through in the 26th minute and the forward fired an effort which was tipped over by Pompey 'keeper Paul Jones.

Sercombe found that piece of missing magic in the 33rd minute after a Danny Rose corner was banged about in the area and the number eight fired home from 10 yards.

Shortly after Sercombe's opener, Oxford had a chance for a second after Roofe skewered a shot wide from a few yards out after O'Dowda burst into the box.

Roofe got the second half up and running for Oxford with a fast turn and after dodging some tackles, fired a pacy effort straight into the hands of Jones.

With 60 minutes on the clock, McGurk fired home an unbeatable strike from over 30 yards that left Oxford 'keeper Sam Slocombe with no chance.

The home side then created a fantastic chance with George Baldock running down the wing and executing a perfect delivery, which Johnny Mullins headed straight at Jones.

Oxford looked up for the fight and MacDonald whipped in a fiery effort that just fizzed above the bar on 70 minutes.

Portsmouth then nearly had a winner on 77 minutes after Oxford had to clear an effort similar to Sercombe's goal, but Mullins blocked the strike away.

Oxford were then handed a lifeline on 81 minutes after Doyle took out Sercombe and was shown a second yellow card.

The U's charged forwards with the ball pin-balling around the Pompey area, but couldn't snatch a winner.

Appleton 'frustrated' after draw

OXFORD United manager Michael Appleton said his side were 'very frustrated' following the 1-1 draw with title favourites Portsmouth on Saturday.

Oxford had led the match through Liam Sercombe's powered effort in the first-half but they were knocked back in the game after Adam McGurk's 40-yard wonder strike levelled the scoring.

Despite Oxford dominating large periods of the game in the second half, it wasn't to be for Appleton's side.

He told the Oxfordshire Guardian: "We are very frustrated if I'm honest. We should have put the game to bed in the first half and we didn't.

"We let them back into the game and they made us pay. We should give them praise as they had a 15 minute spell where it looked like they could do something but we restricted them to only three efforts on goal."

However, Appleton is not getting downbeat about his side's performance, knowing that they were up against a tough side.

He said: "We were just one shot or deflection away from nicking all three points.

"The fact that we took a point from the game is no disgrace, we were playing against a side that should win this league."

Walkinshaw's team secures top eight finish

CHIPPING Norton's Sean Walkinshaw produced the best drive of his maiden season in GT Racing at Germany's Nurburging with a top eight finish.

Walkinshaw, who was competing in the Blancpain Endurance Series finale, took the middle stint of the contest for his team.

He performed some outstanding overtaking, keeping the team in the podium hunt with teammates Craig Dolby and Martin Plowman also part of the team.

Plowman concluded the run for the team with an eight place finish with the team delayed in the final pit-stop due to a pit lane delay.

Sean said: "We're all massively disappointed with the end result, we were in third on the grid and the lead we had built up was fantastic."

The race was disrupted by two safety car incidents which delayed the progress of the team's car, the Nissan GT-R NISMO GT3.

Sean added: "I'm sure we could have kept the lead without the safety cars. Craig did a great job and I was happy with the pace in my stint.

"It's good to end the series back in the points, but it was disappointing not to have taken the podium we know we were capable of."

Sean's team finished 15th in the standings, securing 18 points in total over the course of the season.

Defeat signals the end of Miller's nine-game streak

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

NORTH Leigh's run of nine straight league and cup wins was brought to an end as Kieran Sanders turned from hero to villain in a compelling 2-1 defeat at Swindon Supermarine on Saturday.

The Millers faced off against Swindon at the Webbswood Stadium, taking a deserved first-half lead and Sanders put them in front with a superb goal.

However, he was then left red-faced as a rash tackle on Swindon's Chris Taylor gave the referee no choice but to dismiss the influential forward, which was followed by Swindon rallying through two goals from Bradley Grey and Luke Hopper.

North Leigh bombarded the Swindon goal early in the game with Sanders leading the line well for the Millers.

Ashley Edenborough was shown his first yellow of the game for Swindon on 27 minutes in a nasty challenge on Morgan Williams, and five minutes later Sanders got the opening after the ball crept in from a shot from the left of the box.

Sanders then got his marching orders after sliding in late and with studs up on Taylor and he was dismissed.

On the stroke of half-time, Supermarine rallied and Bradley Gray hit a blasted effort from within the box past Leigh' keeper James Foster for the equaliser.

Swindon kept The Millers under intense pressure from the start of the second half and after 59 minutes Swindon got their second goal after Edenborough crossed a ball in from the right and Hooper got a touch on it from six yards to glance it in.

Edenborough was then given a second yellow on 71 minutes after a nasty challenge and the game was evened up.

The Millers tried hard to find themselves an equaliser but it was not to be and Swindon held on for a momentous win for the home side bringing an end to the Miller's imperious start to the season.

Mark Gee's men will have a chance to bounce back from the defeat this weekend, as they entertain Slimbridge AFC in the Second Qualifying Round of the Emirates FA Cup at Eynsham Park on Saturday.

Away day defeat for Barry's Wantage

DANIEL Barry's Wantage Town were defeated on the same ground he started his managerial career at the club in a 2-1 defeat to Yate Town on Saturday.

The Freds had lost the game 3-0 after going down to ten men but the visitors were confident heading into the contest as Yate had yet to win a home game this season.

However, the home side proved to be up for the contest and dominated the first half with the Freds only really testing the Yate 'keeper in the 17th minute through a Jake Johns free kick.

Yate got their goal in the 25th minute after a cross from Camen Harvey was met by Jake Jackson and the resulting header bulged the net to give the home side the lead.

Wantage 'keeper Edward Cavanagh was called into action shortly afterwards to prevent Jackson from scoring a second before Harvey scored Yate's second on the stroke of half-time.

The second half saw Wantage contest their opponents more in midfield and the Freds managed to get a goal back with only three minutes gone in the second half after Aaron Ferris scored a sensational strike from the 18-yard box.

Wantage pushed on but couldn't find the equaliser with the hosts holding on to all three points.

Merritt's men mount second half fight back in 2-2 draw in Marsh Lane contest

OXFORD City came from two goals down to draw 2-2 with Eastbourne Borough in an entertaining game at Marsh Lane.

For the first hour, Justin Merritt's side had been trailing but a late spark saw the side get back into the game and rescue a point.

Nathan Pinney opened the scoring for the visitors in the 15th minute after he beat the offside trap and slid the ball in.

City headed in at the break a goal down but were made to pay for sloppy defending in the second half as Gavin McCallum managed to put the visitors up in the 52nd minute.

Bradley Bubb managed to wake City up shortly afterwards, capitalising on poor defensive work to bundle the ball home.

Merritt's men then drove the ball forward, moving in waves down both wings and Julen Lafuente managed to scramble the ball into the goal with only half an hour left to play.

Both sides went close as the game wore on and City might have snatched a penalty in the 80th minute but the referee ruled for play to carry on and City were happy to come away from the encounter with a point.

Chapman eyes podium finish at Silverstone

OXFORD'S teenage racing star Matt Chapman is 'feeling confident' as he heads to Silverstone for the penultimate race meeting of the Ginetta Junior Championship this weekend.

Chapman is desperate to make his mark at the circuit and break into the top ten on the racetrack.

The racer has had to deal with a variety of incidents and dramas over the course of the season but is still determined to secure his first silverware.

The racer said: "I'm sure the racing is going to be as close as it has all season, with so few corners and two wide straights, there are always going to be lots of opportunities for overtaking.

"If we can get qualifying right, I'm pretty confident that we could be on for our best weekend yet."

The 15-year-old secured a season-best finish of fifth place at Knockhill in Scotland last month and has managed to finish two other to six finishes over the course of the season.

He added: "To be honest, our pace has been good all year but things have just gone against us. It's been one of those seasons unfortunately but I'm determined to get on the podium at the weekend."

Chapman is currently eleventh in the championship standings with 169 points.

Stars hold Raiders in thriller at Oxpens

OXFORD City Stars were held to a 2-2 draw in a thriller with Wightlink Raiders on Sunday at Oxpens Road.

Both netminders were called into action within the first thirty seconds with both sides eager to get on the scoreboard.

Oxford managed to be the first on the board after a power play goal from Ben Ealey-Newman with Danny Rose performing a minor hooking on a Stars player.

Wightlink's Matty Colclough made a superb save to deny Steve Osman but Ealey-Newman managed to bounce to slide home the rebound.

Oxford then doubled their lead when Joe Edwards got hold of a Nick Oliver pass and Edwards was able to dance around the remaining defenceman and beat Colclough on the glove side to double Oxford's lead.

Just before fourteen minutes into the game, the Raiders were given a power play after Oxford's Andy Cox got two minutes for slashing and they scored just six seconds into it.

Brendan Baird shot through traffic with his shot blocked but Craig Tribe managed to sweep home the rebounded effort.

The Raiders managed to find their equaliser in the third period with Corey Watkins setting up Matthew Layday who pushed past a Stars' defenceman and skewered the effort into the corner of the net.

Youngster gets Abingdon the three points on debut

16-YEAR-OLD TALENT SCORES U'S WINNER

A DEBUT goal from 16-year-old Kit Angel-Scott secured a win for Abingdon United over Longlevens AFC in a 2-1 win at the Northcourt in the Hellenic Premier League on Tuesday.

Steve Alman's side were without seven first-team players due to injuries, but George Reid had put United in front shortly before the break.

Just three minutes later the visitors found the net themselves, and with 20 minutes remaining substitute Angel-Scott stepped up and fired home after a great run from the wing.

Alman was "delighted" with his United boys, whose performance sees them stay 17th in the table on eight points after their second league win of the season.

He told the Guardian: "It was a very good performance and I'm very proud of the boys as we worked our socks off and our approach to the game was spot on.

"It was the first time we stuck to the game plan over the course of the 90 minutes and it's really starting to come together for us this season."

The average age of the Abingdon United squad is currently 19 years of age, with five 17-year-olds in Tuesday's line-up.

loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

And Alman is hoping to push on with the team's crop of players and insists the club model is to stick to their three-year plan, with this season focused on moulding the players into shape and getting them vital match experience.

He said: "We know that it's not going to be easy but we have got to give these players the time to really get to grips with this league and to start planning ahead.

"The players need time to gel as a group together and it is a long season ahead."

United are set to face off against Highmoor-Ibis this Saturday in a game which Alman knows is going to be tough for his players.

He added: "We know that they are a very good team who are going to be very physical for us and press from midfield, but we have a renewed sense of optimism here and we will give them a game."
